PROFILE

I am studying at Trakya University, Department of Information Systems and Technologies. I love computer science, I am constantly researching and trying to learn technologies that are not taught in my school. I am developing backend with C#(.Net) and Java (Spring Boot). I know the Python programming language at a basic level and have developed projects on data science, data visualization and web scraping with Numpy, Pandas, Folium and Selenium. I like to research, read, discuss and write code.
